Minimum Qualifications :

- Master's degree in Biology, Environmental Science, Zoology, Ecology or related field AND one (1) year of fieldwork experience;
- OR Bachelor's degree in Biology, Environmental Science, Zoology, Ecology or related field AND over two (2) years of fieldwork experience;

Character of Duties:

Biologists hired under this announcement will be part of the Brown Treesnake Project under the direction of U.S. Geological Survey scientists. Members of the project conduct high-quality research on biology, control, and containment of the brown treesnake, with the eventual goal of restoring native species. Offices and labs are at the Guam National Wildlife Refuge, Ritidian Point, Guam, and fieldwork is conducted primarily on northern Guam including on military lands. Project leaders are based at Guam NWR and at the USGS Fort Collins Science Center.

Duties include:

- Conducting surveys for brown treesnakes and other species
- Setting and checking traps and other control tools
- Conducting capture, humane euthanasia, and necropsy of brown treesnakes and other species
- Extensive error-free data collection, data entry, data proofing
- Animal husbandry duties for reptiles, birds, and rodents
- Conducting ecological experiments on various vertebrate species in the lab and in the field
- Other duties as assigned.

Biologists hired at the Research Associate II level will also assume higher-level duties including establishing research schedules for multiple projects; providing direction to Research Associate I colleagues; being assigned to lead data collection and logistics for specific projects; producing data summaries and incident reports for project leaders; and effectively communicating with cooperators from USGS, USDA, Navy, Air Force, and other entities.

Incumbents will be members of the Brown Treesnake Rapid Response Team and may be called upon to travel to other Pacific islands on very short notice to participate in rapid responses to snake sightings.

Field conditions can be challenging, including extended periods of fieldwork in hot and humid conditions including continuing work during rainstorms; traveling over steep/rocky terrain while carrying equipment, exposure to biting/stinging insects, and handling snakes, rodents, and other animals that may bite. Safety is our highest priority and unsafe behaviors will not be tolerated.

Weekend work and split schedules (such as working in morning, being free in the afternoon, then conducting fieldwork at night) are common.

Must have valid driver's license and passport. Must be able to pass background checks required for access to government computers and military facilities.
