

YOUTUBE

FOR THE ONLINE (& TRADITIONAL) CLASSROOM

Learn how to use your smartphone to produce YouTube content easily and efficiently! Learn how to edit the closed captioning for accuracy, enhance thumbnail images, create bite-sized videos that engage students, and post YouTube to Moodle!

FRIDAY, JUNE 5
10 A.M.

JOIN US ON MICROSOFT TEAMS!

PRESENTED BY:

DR. MERISSA BROWN

Merissa Bunton (Brown), Ed.D. began teaching English composition and speech courses at UOG in 2005. She created and taught the first fully online composition courses for the university. She successfully defended her dissertation, Student Perceptions of Online English Courses at University of Guam: A Quantitative Study, in 2015. She continues to teach online for UOG from her present home on Oahu where lectures full time, online, face-to-face, and in various hybridized environments for the Language Arts Department of University of Hawaii's Leeward Community College.

